WEIMAR, June 20—The Schiedeman cabinet has resigned.

New Cabinet Selected Tonight

THE HAGUE, June 20—The new German cabinet will be selected tonight according to dispatches received here today quoting "a most reliable source."

U. S. Delegates Hear of Fall

PARIS, June 20—Advices received by the American Peace Commission today stated that the German government and Chancellor Schiedemann had fallen and that Foreign Minister Noske is likely to be Schiedemann's successor.

Cassel Yank Objective

COBLENZ, June 19—The American army's main objective in case the Germans decide on war will be Cassel it was learned from a reliable source today. Cassel is about 25 miles northeast of Coblenz and in the direct route to Berlin.

The army will move forward on a 37 mile front and its officers are confident the Americans can cover the entire neutral zone if hostilities are resumed. The army of occupation is astir with preparations for war. Troops east of the Rhine are moving to strategic positions.

One hundred additional motor trucks arrived today to aid in carrying the Infantry. A high American officer predicted today that should the army advance it "would be a whirl wind affair."

An Unofficial Statement

BERLIN, June 20—"The government's attitude after reading the full text of the Allied reply to the counter proposals is unchanged," an unofficial statement said today.

The terms are impossible and cannot be fulfilled." Considerable significance was attached in official circles to the fact that the statement did not reiterate that "the terms are unacceptable."

By CARL D. GROAT

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WEIMAR, June 20—The present German cabinet has definitely decided to resign and make room for a new ministry that will sign the peace treaty, according to authoritative information obtained today.

The new cabinet it was said would place itself on record as favoring acceptance of the terms so that the action of the National Assembly scheduled to make the decision on the treaty would probably be a mere formality. Either Foreign Minister Noske or Herman Muller will be asked to head the new ministry.

The old cabinet was said to stand 8 to 7 against signing.

The industrial situation is becoming more tense and reports have been received here that a general strike is pending in Berlin. The government claims the Independent Socialists are threatening a nation wide strike starting in the capital. A dispatch from Essen today reported an unsuccessful attempt against the Soviet republic in the Ruhr industrial district.

35 MILLION FOR AVIATION

WASHINGTON, June 20—The Senate Naval Affairs committee today voted to allow $35,000,000 for naval aviation during the coming year.

FEARS YELLOW PERIL

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, June 20—Demanding legislation that will bar every Japanese immigrant, Senator Phelan, of California, today warned America to be ready for "war on the Pacific." Appearing as a witness before the House Immigration committee Phelan appealed to save the western states from economic death and from the hands of the "Ills of the East."

BOOST MISSIONS THE OBJECT

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 20 (United Press)—This was the opening day of the Methodist Centenary celebration. Until July 13 the gates of the exposition grounds will remain open to welcome the hosts of Methodism and their friends. It is regarded as the most ambitious demonstration of missionary effort in home and foreign fields ever attempted. With pageantry, with music, with life plays representing the daily existence of strange peoples in far away lands, with replicas of far off communities and with innumerable features and exhibits, the Centenary Celebration emphasizes the one hundredth anniversary of the Methodist church's entry into the mission field.

It is an all American exposition. The Methodist church and the Methodist church, South have joined in a demonstration of the strength of their denomination. Eight exhibit buildings house the exhibits and life plays. In the Coliseum, seating 7,500 persons, the pageant, "The Wayfarer" is to be presented nightly, excepting Sunday, while a children's pageant, "The Children's Crusade" is to be presented two afternoons each week.

Seventeen thousand participants have been enlisted to make this gathering a success. A choir of 1,000 voices has been drilled for the pageant "The Wayfarer," which has also an orchestra of seventy-five pieces and the aid of the $50,000 pipe organ, especially constructed. The children's pageant has duplicate choruses of 50 voices each. In addition there is the Centenary Celebration Trombone choir of one hundred trombones, the only organization of its kind in existence.

Noted men of this and other countries have been invited to participate, and acceptances have been received from Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy; William Howard Taft; William Jennings Bryan, and Major General Leonard Wood. Eminent men of the Methodist Church have signified their intention of participating.

The various exhibition buildings are assigned to nations having prominence in the mission field. The China building enclosed a walled Chinese city complete in all details, with temples, pagodas, restaurants and gathering places. The Africa building contains thatched jungle huts and the masonry structures of North Africa remnants of Roman civilization.

The India building contains the bazaar, shrines, burning gnats, and other pertinent features of the mystic empire. The Korea-Japan-Malaysia building encloses tea houses temples, island huts and industries. The Europe-Latin America building presents bits of war-wrecked France and Belgium, shell-shattered cathedrals and an accurate replica of the Chateau-Thierry battle ground.

Everything in the home mission field is represented in the twin American buildings. In the insular American building are found replicas of the dwellings of those Americans living in Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines.

The largest screen in the world, a spread of white 110 by 110 feet has been erected for the exhibition of a great series of pictures from all over the world, culled from the collections of missionaries.

A special corps of youths, the Centenary Cadets, one thousand strong, was recruited to guard the grounds and act as guides and messengers. As nearly as possible, one cadet was drawn from each church district in the United States, forming a unique church cadet body.

The Centenary Celebration was opened under the auspices of the Joint

HELD FOR GRAND JURY INQUIRY

Punkstutawney, June 20.—Although the coroner declared death was accidental Julius Zietler, aged 22, of Rossiter was held today for action of the Grand Jury for the shooting of Miss Anna Neal, aged 17, of Horatio who was killed while a member of an automobile party near here last night. The party was made up of Zietler and the Neal girl, Mildred Gotwald, aged 16, of Punkstutawney and Joseph Loney, aged 22, of Rossiter, a returned soldier.

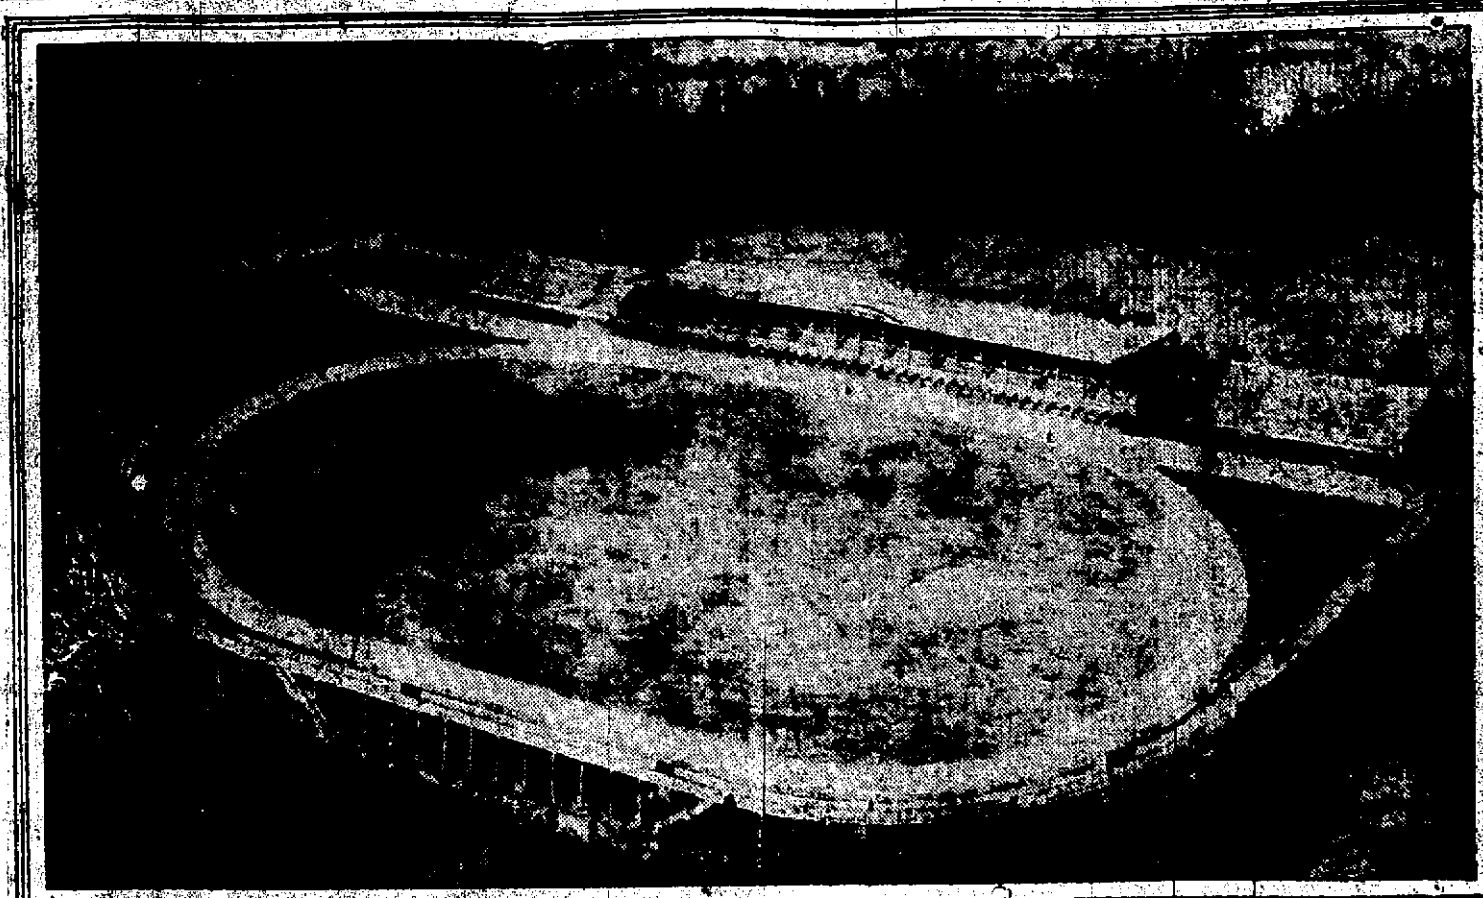

While en route from Rossiter to Punkstutawney the automobile was stopped and Zietler and the Neal girl went for a stroll, it was stated. During their absence the Gotwald girl took an automobile revolver and fired one shot. Zietler and his companion returned to the car where he unloaded the revolver and hit the hammer several times to see if it was empty. After the party resumed the trip to Punkstutawney the Neal girl was alleged to have handed the revolver to Zietler and said "why don't you shoot me." Zietler believing the revolver empty aimed at the girl killing her instantly. The members of the party hurried to Punkstutawney and surrendered themselves. All were released with the exception of Zietler.

Jno Green and Jas McEwan, prominent mining men of Arcadia, Indiana county were Clearfield visitors today.

Both in England and in France women peers originally communicated their titles and dignities to their husbands. In England today, in a few instances, women have had conferred upon them titles in their own right with remainder to their eldest son, but the husband does not share the title.

To relieve congestion on the railroads and provide a delightful summer outing, the celebration management arranged for automobile caravans by which thousands of attendants could motor to the exposition. One caravan formed in Illinois announced it had 1,600 automobiles.

WHERE INTERALLIED ATHLETIC MEET WILL TAKE PLACE—The photo shows the construction of the Perhing Stadium just outside Paris, where athletes of all the allied armies will contest in games from June 22 to July 4. The cost of the structure, which is of concrete, will be about $250,000. The seating capacity is 22,000. When the Americans have returned to the United States the stadium will be presented to the French government.

"HEMLOCK LIMITED"
AVOIDS
WITH MOTOR CYCLE

The truth of the old saw about "the burnt child dreads the fire" was again exemplified down in front of Williams Third street automobile shop yesterday afternoon. Conductor Dick Farrell and his collection of time-worn, weather stained old hemlock passenger coaches was crippling haltingly into the Pennsy station at 1:15. A motor cycle rider had trundled his machine up against the curb immediately adjoining the railroad track while he was transacting some business with Williams. As the train approached the engineer saw that the motorcycle was too close to the track to allow the coaches to get by without a collision and fearing a repetition of the recent encounter with a Ford, he jammed on the air and brought his train to a stop.

One of the carpenter repair gangs now strung along the road between Grampian and Tyrone to render needed first aid to the decrepit old invalid coaches at any and the many times required daily was working at the alley crossing below and in response to the engineer's S. O. S. a carpenter ran up and carefully hauled the motor cycle out of the way.

When the brakes were applied Conductor Farrell at once beat it to his tool chest and by the time the train stopped Dick was down on the steps of the smoker with his saw, hatchet and nails, in hand ready to patch up or repair the damaged coach he expected to find.

When the cycle was removed the train started and when Dick saw the cause of the trouble you should have heard him bawl out the poor devil standing there with the machine. He thought the volunteer rescuer was the cause of his trouble and had a hard time being convinced to the contrary, but later made handsome apology to his fellow "wood butcher."

Supt. Johnson says we ought not to kick on riding in these wooden coaches, as they are so much more comfortable than the steel ones; these old modern fellows "give on the turns and swing around gracefully, while the steels ride so stiffly." Further while the modern ones are not near so safe in case of a wreck, they are much cooler to ride in here. But what will it profit a fellow if the convenience of a cool ride here may be the means of landing him a hot berth hereafter. You know we are not all saints. As for us, we prefer a little heat in a safe and sane steel coach while traveling here.

CAPT. F. K. PROSSER HOME

Captain F. K. Prosser of the twenty third engineers arrived in Clearfield yesterday on furlough. Captain Prosser came from France on the transport with Col. Fred B. Kerr and the first unit of the Twenty-third and expects to be mustered out of the service before long. He is both looking and feeling fine and was most cordially greeted by his host of friends here.

FOCH WILL QUICKLY OCCUPY THE
PRINCIPAL CENTRES OF GERMANY
IF TREATY IS NOT SIGNED

By J. W. T. MASON

(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, June 20—Marshal Foch will be able to occupy the principal strategical points within Germany in a fortnight if Germany refuses to sign the peace treaty and it will be only the beginning of Allied activities. After taking the military centers the Allies will have to take over the administration of the Germans and put them to work. The enemy blockade will prevent food from being indiscriminately distributed. If Germany remains stubborn the reorganization of German industry will come under the direction of the Allies.

CLEMENCEAU RECEIVES IRISH PLEA

WASHINGTON, June 20—President Wilson has submitted to Premier Clemenceau the Borah resolution asking for a hearing of the Irish delegates at the Paris peace conference the State Department informed the Senate today.

HOST OF ROYAL LEGISLATURE WILL
ARCH MASONS HERE
ADJOURN ON TIME

Clearfield is the mecca today for over two hundred Royal Arch Masons from this jurisdiction who have come here to observe the conferring of the degree on a class of well over a half hundred Masons from this community. The sessions began this afternoon and will continue this evening while a dinner will be served in the rooms of the Fraternity Club at six o'clock.

HE IS SOME PROGNOSTICATOR

On June 22d 1918, The Progress made mention of the first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evans, of the West Side. Their friends had gathered to assist in the celebration and supplied presents enough to stock the infant ward in the Children's Home. The article stated, after reciting the above fact, "Harry was called upon for a speech, he said that while he was unequal to the occasion and there was nothing doing this year, he hoped to be able to not only talk to them himself next year but have somebody to talk for him."

Listen to this, Old Dr. Stark left a fine big nine pound boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evans on William street last evening. Mother and babe are getting along finely, and so is Harry.

VISITING HIS MOTHER

Lieutenant Walter F. Johnson, son of Mrs. William M. Smith of Nichols street, is visiting his mother at present. Lieutenant Johnson is a member of Battery E. of the 17th Field Artillery and is just back after strenuous service overseas. He has been in the regular army for more than twelve years.

Harrisburg, June 20.—Legislative makers during the present week have so conducted themselves that for the first time in many years it looks as if the close of the Pennsylvania legislature will be in an orderly manner and at the time set—next Thursday at noon. Both the Senate and the House during the past week have cleared large calendars and practically all of the important legislation has been rushed through, except some revenue raising measures in the Senate and the anti-sedition and compensation measures in the House.

WERE IN FIRST CONTINGENT

William Perry Carns and Charles Ober English two of the first contingent of selective service men to leave Clearfield for Camp Lee on Sept. 7, 1917, were about town today both having been mustered out of the service the past week or two with the remainder of the famous 80th Division.

NOTICE CLEARFIELD

TAXPAYERS
Obligations incurred when I assumed the office of Tax Collector make it absolutely necessary for me to have my 1918 duplicate cleared up by July 1st. My bond requires that this be done. Therefore all persons owing 1918 taxes must make payment of same by July 1st otherwise I will have to proceed to get same and thereby add additional cost. I have no other alternative in the matter and the tax must be paid by that time.

Mexico has an area of 765,535 square miles and a population of 15,000,000.

Mexico is a Federal republic, with a Constitution modeled closely after that of the United States.

The State of Chihuahua, just south of the American border where the revolutionists have long been operating, is about three times as large as the State of New York.

The border line between the United States and Mexico is 1200 miles in length, with about 600 miles of it a purely imaginary line. That part of the border line defined by the banks of the Rio Grande is well marked.

Pulque is the national drink of Mexico among the lower classes. It is a fermented liquor with a milky appearance, tasting much like stale buttermilk. It contains about 6 per cent. alcohol and is said to make the most beastly drunks in the world.

Like other countries in the tropical zone Mexico has its rainy season, when showers come daily. Sometimes for days on end it rains almost at the same hour and apparently at the same minute of the day. Usually the rain begins to fall about 2 o'clock in the afternoon and may continue until 4 o'clock.

Mexico City the capital of the republic, which the Mexicans pronounce "Meheco" is considered one of the most beautiful of the world's capitals. This ancient city dominates the land as Paris does France. Today the capital of Mexico is essentially modern, picturesque in site bracing in climate, but somewhat unfinished architecturally and in other ways.

The Mexican Bill of Rights or "The Rights of Man" as it is called, forms the first section of the Federal Constitution, and covers nearly the whole range of powers and privileges which should be enjoyed by a self-respecting and self-reliant people. In form and theory the Bill of Rights could scarcely be improved upon but its execution, of course, is an entirely different matter.

Wrangling Over Estates

Do you want your heirs to fight and wrangle over your Estate?

Or do you want to spare them this humiliation?

Do you want them to pay some Lawyer half the value of your Estate, or do you want to spare them this expense?

Do you want them to become estranged and unfriendly, or do you want them to live together in love and harmony?

It might be well to think of these things. If you make the Clearfield Trust Co. your executor, everything will be done in harmony and according to the terms of your will.

AMERICA'S IMMORTALS

JAMES D. HERIOT,
Corporal, Company I, 118th Infantry.

Corp. Heriot, who lived near Providence, S. C. was decorated for conspicuous bravery, resulting in his death, at Vaux-Andigny, France, October 12, 1918. Corp. Heriot, with four other soldiers, organized a combat group, and attacked an enemy machine gun nest which had been inflicting heavy casualties on his company. In the advance two of his men were killed, and because of heavy fire from all sides, the remaining two sought shelter. Unmindful of the hazard attached to his mission, Corp. Heriot, with fixed bayonet, alone charged the machine gun, making his way through the fire for a distance of thirty yards, and forcing the enemy to surrender. During this exploit he received several wounds in the arm, and later in the same day while charging another nest, he was killed.

COLLECTING AND DELIVERING FARM FREIGHT

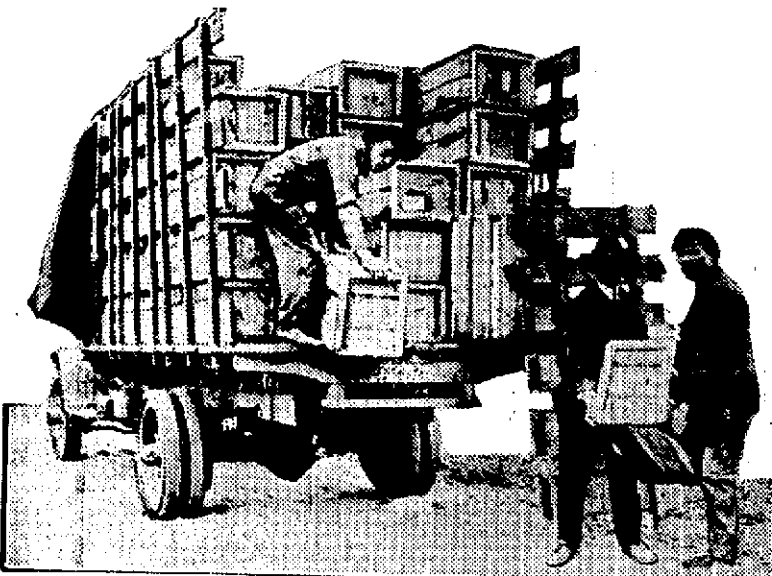

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Farm-to-farm collection of freight on motortruck crates is practiced on short rural routes where comparatively few stops are ordinarily made. Such collection is mostly both in time and gasoline and hence necessitates higher rates. The cross roads collection system is popular also, the shippers centralizing their produce at certain points where it can be loaded on the trucks. The central assembling method where the shippers concentrate their freight at one point or where a lighter, auxiliary truck collects and delivers it is worthy of trial, as it possesses many efficient features. The delivery of the goods at their destinations may be handled very satisfactorily in a similar manner.

Must Keep Accounts.
The small-scale truck line usually collects the charges when the freight is accepted, while the more elaborate systems which haul regularly for different patrons submit weekly or monthly bills. It is essential that each truck operator, no matter how slight his system, should keep a record of his expenses. The bureau of markets in an investigation of over 60 rural motor routes, ascertained that many operators who kept no accounts thought they were making a profit, when, as a matter of fact, they were gradually exhausting their original investment for current expenses.

Must Practice Economy.

Rural hauling by motor is limited and restricted by the operation costs as compared with those of railroads, electric lines and boat routes. The truckman must practice every possible economy in order to minimize his expenses which will be reflected in his charges. Truck routes are only adapted to sections in which the roads are good, as poor roads are an insurmountable obstacle to motor freighting. Furthermore, truck operators must be financially responsible for the goods they carry. Consequently they should be protected by adequate insurance. It is only by such practices that a permanent and certain business can be developed.

GIVE ATTENTION TO AUTO LIGHTS

Owners Overlook Essential Part by Thinking Wiring Too Complicated to Master.

LEARN TO READ HYDROMETER

Prevent Short Circuits by Watching Insulation and Patching Worn Places With Tape—Carry Duplicate Set of Bulbs.

Most car owners believe the lighting system on a car is too complicated to be mastered. But it is not at all difficult to learn how to take care of it. The battery, the lights, the ammeter, the fuses and the wires can readily be understood and should be inspected occasionally. Every motorist should know how to read a hydrometer and test the battery. The cell-hydro meter is better than the one made of glass, because it is not so easily broken.

A reading of from 1.275 to 1.300 indicates that the battery is in good condition and is being properly charged by the generator. If the reading is down to 1.200 it indicates that the lights or the the starter are being used too much.

Keep the battery terminals tight and cover them with cup grease to prevent corrosion by the battery acid. Short circuits can be prevented by watching the wire insulation and covering worn places with tape.

Watch Ammeter Closely.

The ammeter should be watched closely, for it indicates whether the battery is charging when the engine is running. The very best type of ammeter is that which shows the rate at which the charging or discharging takes place.

When the car is running at normal speed—say 20 miles an hour—with all lights on, the ammeter should show charge. If it does not, the battery will soon be discharged. Always see that the ammeter doesn't register discharge when the lights and ignition are turned off. This would be caused by a short circuit between the ammeter and the switch.

Occasionally an ammeter needle becomes bent, giving an incorrect reading. This may be determined by shutting off the lights and disconnecting the wire from the ammeter to the switch. If any variation is noted it must be allowed for when making a reading.

Arrangement of Lamps.

It is always a good plan to carry a duplicate set of lamp bulbs for the car. Note the voltage of the tail light and the instrument light. If these are marked 6V instead of 6V it means that they are wired in series—that is, the current must pass through one and then through the other before it grounds. This is done to notify you whether the tail light is burning. If one of these lights goes out the other also goes out. These lamps must not be put in sockets marked for 6V lamps, such as the side lights, as they would burn out in a few seconds. On the other hand, a 6V lamp would not be harmful but it would give very little light.

Always keep an extra supply of fuses on hand. Learn the location of the fuse for each set of lamps. This is easily determined by turning on all the lights and pulling out the fuses one at a time. When a fuse burns out, find the short circuit before replacing it, otherwise you will burn out fuses just as fast as you put them in.

ANNOYANCES OF DOOR STRAP

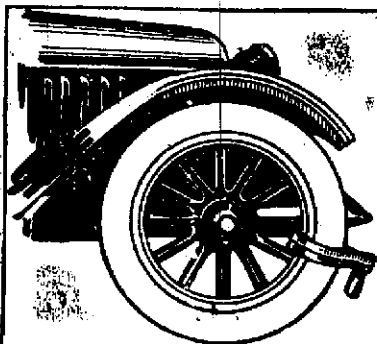

Trouble May Be Prevented by Fastening Small Coil Spring to the Center of Strap.

The straps that are installed on the doors of cars to keep the former from opening too far often cause annoyance by getting in the way of the door when it is being closed. By fastening a small coil spring to the center of the strap, the other end of the spring being attached where the strap is fastened to the body, this trouble will be obviated.

CARING FOR VACUUM TANKS

Fuel Feed System Should Be Cleaned Every Three Months—Take Inner Chamber Out.

The tank of the vacuum fuel feed system should be cleaned out at least once in three months. The operation is not hard to carry out. The top of the tank should be removed and the inner vacuum chamber be taken out. This enables the operator to reach the lower chamber, from which all dirt should be removed.

Waterproof Top.

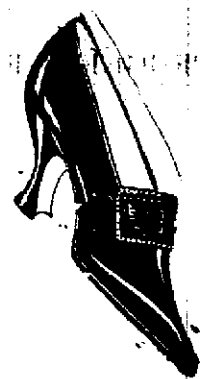

Difficulty is sometimes encountered with leakage through the mohair top. If the top is thoroughly rubbed with boiled linseed oil it will be made practically waterproof.

Applying More Pull Here

WHERE the rear wheels of your truck engage the road, right there Atlantic Gasoline applies terrific force. One of two things must give way, either the load or the road. For wherever wheels can get traction, Atlantic Gasoline supplies abundant power to move massive loads with ease and agility.

First of all, Atlantic Gasoline is no ordinary motor-fuel. Not by any manner of means. It is most extraordinary. It is in a class by itself and at the head of the class.

Just as you cannot get more water out of a bucket than you put into it, so you cannot get more power out of a motor-fuel than is put into it.

A highly skilled organization of refiners charge Atlantic Gasoline with potential power to the absolute limit. It is for your drivers to extract that power when they shift the throttle, or step on the accelerator.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

NO CELEBRATION AT CURWENSVILLE ON JULY FOURTH

From all present indications Curwensville will have no demonstration on July 4th. An effort was made by several who were interested, in holding an old fashioned picnic but after making a canvas of merchants and others received so little encouragement that they soon gave up the idea and dropped the matter then, and there. Clearfield will receive the majority of the young folks who will want to spend the day out of town who ston will go to other towns in search of amusements.

Borough road master Dale had the street sweeper at work yesterday. The machine while used very little since its purchase demonstrated that it would do the work thoroughly in properly handled and under the guiding hand of David Cochran the main thoroughfare were soon free from dust and dirt.

Curwensville real estate transfers: Boyd W. Smith, to Crescent Refractories company, plot of ground in borough, consideration $325. Alton Hummel to Clem L. Rougeux, house and lot on Bloomington avenue, consideration $1700. Mrs. Alfred Bilger, house and lot on Main street to John Moroski, consideration $3800. Several other transfers will be made next week.

The Progress man was in error when he stated that the saw mill which burned on the O. L. Norris farm last Monday was operated by O. C. Norris. The mill was owned and operated by the Crescent Refractories company and were sawing out some lumber for Norris and other parties as well as for the company.

Do not forget the carnival to be held here all of next week, under the auspices of the Keystone cornet band. The band needs some new instrument.

and music and have taken this method of raising the sum needed. Curwensville should support the band boys in their efforts to raise money by giving the people something for their money, instead of soliciting the same by subscription.

Friends of Harold Thompson received word that he had met with an accident at Bellefonte the other day by falling from a pole. He was cut and bruised considerably but luckily no bones were broken.

A number of ladies desire us to mention in the Curwensville letter that ice cream, cake and coffee will be sold over in the South Side public building every Saturday evening. The proceeds are for a good cause and deserve the patronage of citizens generally.

The string of mines along the river are now swinging full each mine having secured enough men to make it possible to operate to full capacity.

This unusually hot weather makes it almost impossible for the men to work at the brick yard and were it not for the shower baths and other conveniences provided by the company men would hesitate about going out to work during the day turns.

The private sale of the personal property of the late Martha Broom was held yesterday and will continue until all the furniture is disposed of.

The Summit Sole Leather tannery was closed down on Wednesday in order to allow the employees an opportunity to attend the big gathering of soldiers and sailors at DuBois.

The funeral of Nolan Bloom held yesterday afternoon was largely attended and the floral display was appropriate and a fit one for the sad occasion to which they were applied. About 40 members of the Live Wire Bible class attended.

WONDER OF WOMAN IS DEEPLY STIRRED

Mrs. Minnie Anderson 32 N. Edgewood St. Phila., said: "I had what felt like a lump in the throat. My circulation was poor and my heart action was not strong. Mrs. Reichert a neighbor, recommended Tanlac. I bought some and now I am up better in every way. Can anyone wonder I praise Tanlac every chance I get."

The genuine J. I. Gore Co. Tanlac is sold here by Stewart Drug Co., Woodward & McPherson.

"Y" TEAM LOSES 7TH STRAIGHT

The "Y" team lost another game last night to 3rd Ward, 11 to 4. As usual the "Y" team started right at the beginning and scored the first runs. They held this lead until the fifth inning when hits mixed with errors gave the 3rd Ward a good margin. Rosberry was knocked out while beating out a hit to first base,
he and Patterson colliding.

New Cabinet Selected Tonight

THE HAGUE, June 20—The new German cabinet will be selected tonight according to dispatches received here today quoting "a most reliable source."

U. S. Delegates Hear of Fall

PARIS, June 20—Advices received by the American Peace Commission today stated that the German government and Chancellor Schiedemann had fallen and that Foreign Minister Noske is likely to be Schiedemann's successor.

Cassel Yank Objective

COBLENZ, June 19—The American army's main objective in case the Germans decide on war will be Cassel it was learned from a reliable source today. Cassel is about 25 miles northeast of Coblenz and in the direct route to Berlin.

The army will move forward on a 37 mile front and its officers are confident the Americans can cover the entire neutral zone if hostilities are resumed. The army of occupation is astir with preparations for war. Troops east of the Rhine are moving to strategic positions.

One hundred additional motor trucks arrived today to aid in carrying the Infantry. A high American officer predicted today that should the army advance it "would be a whirl wind affair."

An Unofficial Statement

BERLIN, June 20—"The government's attitude after reading the full text of the Allied reply to the counter proposals is unchanged," an unofficial statement said today.

The terms are impossible and cannot be fulfilled." Considerable significance was attached in official circles to the fact that the statement did not reiterate that "the terms are unacceptable."

WEIMAR, June 20—The present German cabinet has definitely decided to resign and make room for a new ministry that will sign the peace treaty, according to authoritative information obtained today.

The new cabinet it was said would place itself on record as favoring acceptance of the terms so that the action of the National Assembly scheduled to make the decision on the treaty would probably be a mere formality. Either Foreign Minister Noske or Herman Muller will be asked to head the new ministry.

The old cabinet was said to stand 8 to 7 against signing.

The industrial situation is becoming more tense and reports have been received here that a general strike is pending in Berlin. The government claims the Independent Socialists are threatening a nation wide strike starting in the capital. A dispatch from Essen today reported an unsuccessful attempt against the Soviet republic in the Ruhr industrial district.

BOOST MISSIONS THE OBJECT

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 20 (United Press)—This was the opening day of the Methodist Centenary celebration. Until July 13 the gates of the exposition grounds will remain open to welcome the hosts of Methodism and their friends. It is regarded as the most ambitious demonstration of missionary effort in home and foreign fields ever attempted. With pageantry, with music, with life plays representing the daily existence of strange peoples in far away lands, with replicas of far off communities and with innumerable features and exhibits, the Centenary Celebration emphasizes the one hundredth anniversary of the Methodist church's entry into the mission field.

It is an all American exposition. The Methodist church and the Methodist church, South have joined in a demonstration of the strength of their denomination. Eight exhibit buildings house the exhibits and life plays. In the Coliseum, seating 7,500 persons, the pageant, "The Wayfarer" is to be presented nightly, excepting Sunday, while a children's pageant, "The Children's Crusade" is to be presented two afternoons each week.

Seventeen thousand participants have been enlisted to make this gathering a success. A choir of 1,000 voices has been drilled for the pageant "The Wayfarer," which has also an orchestra of seventy-five pieces and the aid of the $50,000 pipe organ, especially constructed. The children's pageant has duplicate choruses of 50 voices each. In addition there is the Centenary Celebration Trombone choir of one hundred trombones, the only organization of its kind in existence.

Noted men of this and other countries have been invited to participate, and acceptances have been received from Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy; William Howard Taft; William Jennings Bryan, and Major General Leonard Wood. Eminent men of the Methodist Church have signified their intention of participating.

The various exhibition buildings are assigned to nations having prominence in the mission field. The China building enclosed a walled Chinese city complete in all details, with temples, pagodas, restaurants and gathering places. The Africa building contains thatched jungle huts and the masonry structures of North Africa remnants of Roman civilization.

The India building contains the bazaar, shrines, burning gnats, and other pertinent features of the mystic empire. The Korea-Japan-Malaysia building encloses tea houses temples, island huts and industries. The Europe-Latin America building presents bits of war-wrecked France and Belgium, shell-shattered cathedrals and an accurate replica of the Chateau-Thierry battle ground.

Everything in the home mission field is represented in the twin American buildings. In the insular American building are found replicas of the dwellings of those Americans living in Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines.

The largest screen in the world, a spread of white 110 by 110 feet has been erected for the exhibition of a great series of pictures from all over the world, culled from the collections of missionaries.

A special corps of youths, the Centenary Cadets, one thousand strong, was recruited to guard the grounds and act as guides and messengers. As nearly as possible, one cadet was drawn from each church district in the United States, forming a unique church cadet body.

The Centenary Celebration was opened under the auspices of the Joint

HELD FOR GRAND JURY INQUIRY

Punkstutawney, June 20.—Although the coroner declared death was accidental Julius Zietler, aged 22, of Rossiter was held today for action of the Grand Jury for the shooting of Miss Anna Neal, aged 17, of Horatio who was killed while a member of an automobile party near here last night. The party was made up of Zietler and the Neal girl, Mildred Gotwald, aged 16, of Punkstutawney and Joseph Loney, aged 22, of Rossiter, a returned soldier.

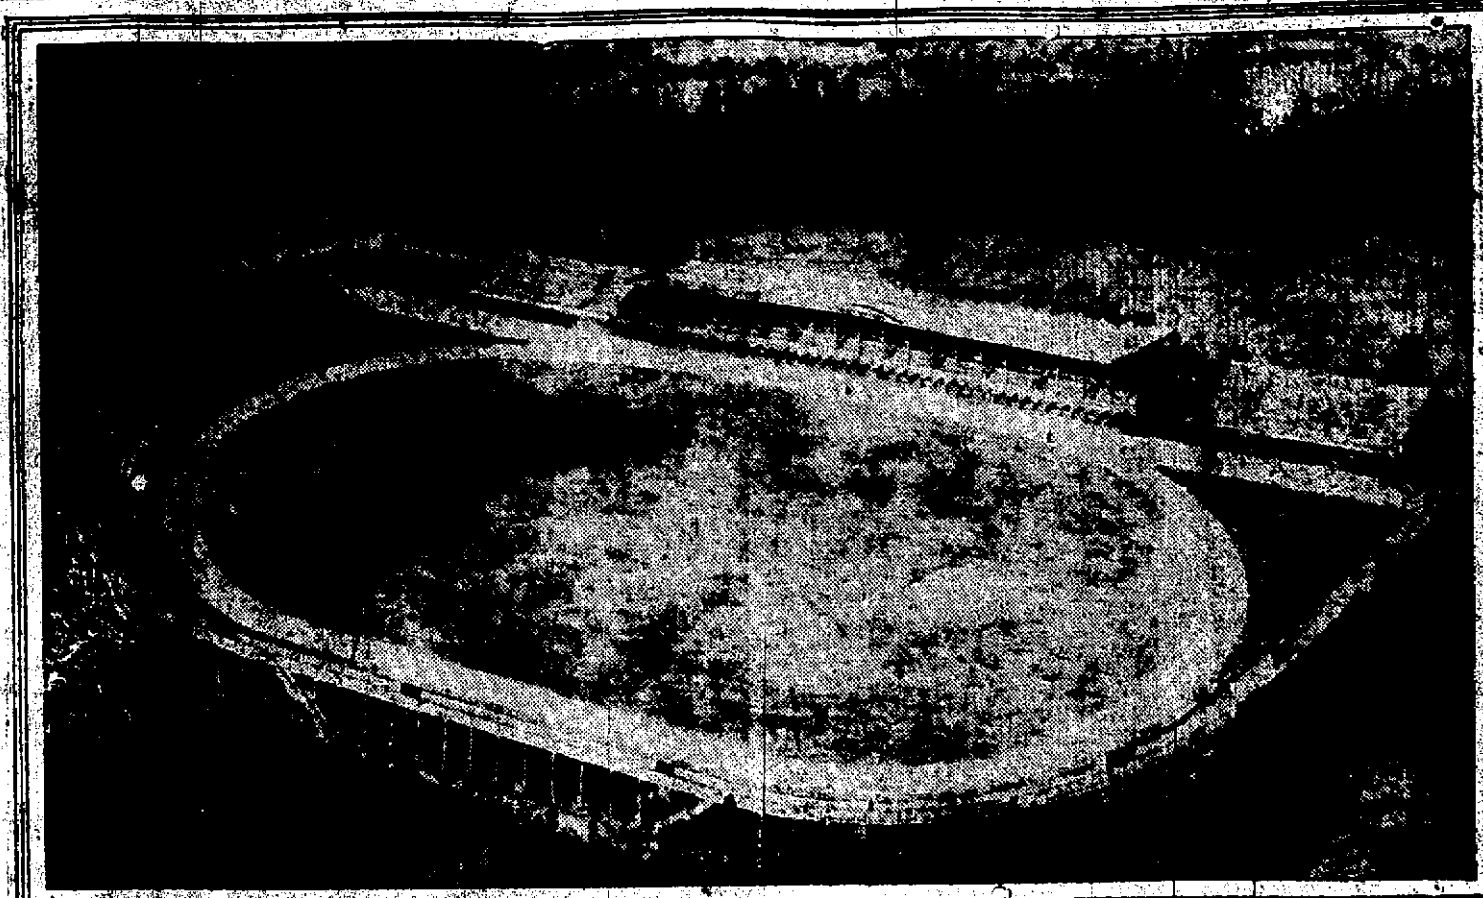

While en route from Rossiter to Punkstutawney the automobile was stopped and Zietler and the Neal girl went for a stroll, it was stated. During their absence the Gotwald girl took an automobile revolver and fired one shot. Zietler and his companion returned to the car where he unloaded the revolver and hit the hammer several times to see if it was empty. After the party resumed the trip to Punkstutawney the Neal girl was alleged to have handed the revolver to Zietler and said "why don't you shoot me?" Zietler believing the revolver empty aimed at the girl killing her instantly. The members of the party hurried to Punkstutawney and surrendered themselves. All were released with the exception of Zietler.

Jno Green and Jas McEwan, prominent mining men of Arcadia, Indiana county were Clearfield visitors today.

Both in England and in France women peers originally communicated their titles and dignities to their husbands. In England today, in a few instances, women have had conferred upon them titles in their own right with remainder to their eldest son, but the husband does not share the title.

Commission of the Methodist Church and the Methodist Church South of which W. W. Pinson is chairman. S. Earl Taylor is director-general of the Celebration, with Dr. James E. Crowther as his assistant. W. B. Beauchamp is Associate Director-General, while the organizing work was done by H. B. Dickson.

To relieve congestion on the railroads and provide a delightful summer outing, the celebration management arranged for automobile caravans by which thousands of attendants could motor to the exposition. One caravan formed in Illinois announced it had 1,600 automobiles.

WHERE INTERALLIED ATHLETIC MEET WILL TAKE PLACE—The photo shows the construction of the Perhing Stadium just outside Paris, where athletes of all the allied armies will contest in games from June 22 to July 4. The cost of the structure, which is of concrete, will be about $250,000. The seating capacity is 22,000. When the Americans have returned to the United States the stadium will be presented to the French government.

"HEMLOCK LIMITED"

The truth of the old saw about "the burnt child dreads the fire" was again exemplified down in front of Williams Third street automobile shop yesterday afternoon. Conductor Dick Farrell and his collection of time-worn, weather stained old hemlock passenger coaches was crippling haltingly into the Pennsy station at 1:15. A motor cycle rider had trundled his machine up against the curb immediately adjoining the railroad track while he was transacting some business with Williams. As the train approached the engineer saw that the motorcycle was too close to the track to allow the coaches to get by without a collision and fearing a repetition of the recent encounter with a Ford, he jammed on the air and brought his train to a stop.

One of the carpenter repair gangs now strung along the road between Grampian and Tyrone to render needed first aid to the decrepit old invalid coaches at any and the many times required daily was working at the alley crossing below and in response to the engineer's S. O. S. a carpenter ran up and carefully hauled the motor cycle out of the way.

When the brakes were applied Conductor Farrell at once beat it to his tool chest and by the time the train stopped Dick was down on the steps of the smoker with his saw, hatchet and nails, in hand ready to patch up or repair the damaged coach he expected to find.

When the cycle was removed the train started and when Dick saw the cause of the trouble you should have heard him bawl out the poor devil standing there with the machine. He thought the volunteer rescuer was the cause of his trouble and had a hard time being convinced to the contrary, but later made handsome apology to his fellow "wood butcher."

Supt. Johnson says we ought not to kick on riding in these wooden coaches, as they are so much more comfortable than the steel ones; these old modern fellows "give on the turns and swing around gracefully, while the steels ride so stiffly." Further while the modern ones are not near so safe in case of a wreck, they are much cooler to ride in here. But what will it profit a fellow if the convenience of a cool ride here may be the means of landing him a hot berth hereafter. You know we are not all saints. As for us, we prefer a little heat in a safe and sane steel coach while traveling here.

CAPT. F. K. PROSSER HOME

Captain F. K. Prosser of the twenty third engineers arrived in Clearfield yesterday on furlough. Captain Prosser came from France on the transport with Col. Fred B. Kerr and the first unit of the Twenty-third and expects to be mustered out of the service before long. He is both looking and feeling fine and was most cordially greeted by his host of friends here.

FOCH WILL QUICKLY OCCUPY THE
PRINCIPAL CENTRES OF GERMANY
IF TREATY IS NOT SIGNED

By J. W. T. MASON

(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, June 20—Marshal Foch will be able to occupy the principal strategical points within Germany in a fortnight if Germany refuses to sign the peace treaty and it will be only the beginning of Allied activities. After taking the military centers the Allies will have to take over the administration of the Germans and put them to work. The enemy blockade will prevent food from being indiscriminately distributed. If Germany remains stubborn the reorganization of German industry will come under the direction of the Allies.

HE IS SOME PROGNOSTICATOR

On June 22d 1918, The Progress made mention of the first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evans, of the West Side. Their friends had gathered to assist in the celebration and supplied presents enough to stock the infant ward in the Children's Home. The article stated, after reciting the above fact, "Harry was called upon for a speech, he said that while he was unequal to the occasion and there was nothing doing this year, he hoped to be able to not only talk to them himself next year but have somebody to talk for him."

Listen to this, Old Dr. Stark left a fine big nine pound boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evans on William street last evening. Mother and babe are getting along finely, and so is Harry.

VISITING HIS MOTHER

Lieutenant Walter F. Johnson, son of Mrs. William M. Smith of Nichols street, is visiting his mother at present. Lieutenant Johnson is a member of Battery E. of the 17th Field Artillery and is just back after strenuous service overseas. He has been in the regular army for more than twelve years.

Harrisburg, June 20.—Legislative makers during the present week have so conducted themselves that for the first time in many years it looks as if the close of the Pennsylvania legislature will be in an orderly manner and at the time set—next Thursday at noon. Both the Senate and the House during the past week have cleared large calendars and practically all of the important legislation has been rushed through, except some revenue raising measures in the Senate and the anti-sedition and compensation measures in the House.

Mexico has an area of 765,535 square miles and a opulation of 15,000,000.

Mexico is a Federal republic, with a Constitution modeled closely after that of the United States.

The State of Chihuahua, just south of the American border where the revolutionists have long been operating, is about three times as large as the State of New York.

The border line between the United States and Mexico is 1200 miles in length, with about 600 miles of it a purely imaginary line. That part of the border line defined by the banks of the Rio Grande is well marked.

Pulque is the national drink of Mexico among the lower classes. It is a fermented liquor with a milky appearance, tasting much like stale buttermilk. It contains about 6 per cent. alcohol and is said to make the most beastly drunks in the world.

Like other countries in the tropical zone Mexico has its rainy season, when showers come daily. Sometimes for days on end it rains almost at the same hour and apparently at the same minute of the day. Usually the rain begins to fall about 2 o'clock in the afternoon and may continue until 4 o'clock.

Mexico City the capital of the republic, which the Mexicans pronounce "Meheco" is considered one of the most beautiful of the world's capitals. This ancient city dominates the land as Paris does France. Today the capital of Mexico is essentially modern, picturesque in site bracing in climate, but somewhat unfinished architecturally and in other ways.

The Mexican Bill of Rights or "The Rights of Man" as it is called, forms the first section of the Federal Constitution, and covers nearly the whole range of powers and privileges which should be enjoyed by a self-respecting and self-reliant people. In form and theory the Bill of Rights could scarcely be improved upon but its execution, of course, is an entirely different matter.

Wrangling Over Estates

Do you want your heirs to fight and wrangle over your Estate?

Or do you want to spare them this humiliation?

Do you want them to ay some Lawyer half the value of your Estate, or do you want to spare them this expense?

Do you want them to become estranged and unfriendly, or do you want them to live together in love and harmony?

It might be well to think of these things. If you make the Clearfield Trust Co. your executor, everything will be done in harmony and according to the terms of your will.

JAMES D. HERIOT,
Corporal, Company I, 118th
Infantry.

Corp. Heriot, who lived near Providence, S. C. was decorated for conspicuous bravery, resulting in his death, at Vaux-Andigny, France, October 12, 1918.

Corp. Heriot, with four other soldiers, organized a combat group, and attacked an enemy machine gun nest which had been inflicting heavy casualties on his company. In the advance two of his men were killed, and because of heavy fire from all sides, the remaining two sought shelter. Unmindful of the hazard attached to his mission, Corp. Heriot, with fixed bayonet, alone charged the machine gun, making his way through the fire for a distance of thirty yards, and forcing the enemy to surrender. During this exploit he received several wounds in the arm, and later in the same day while charging another nest, he was killed.

COLLECTING AND DELIVERING FARM FREIGHT

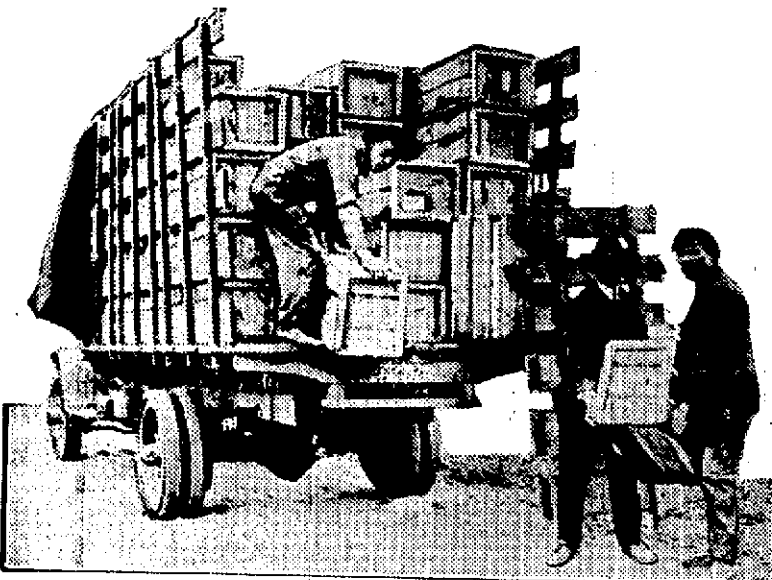

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Farm-to-farm collection of freight on motortruck crates is practiced on short rural routes where comparatively few stops are ordinarily made. Such collection is mostly both in time and gasoline and hence necessitates higher rates. The cross roads collection system is popular also, the shippers centralizing their produce at certain points where it can be loaded on the trucks. The central assembling method where the shippers concentrate their freight at one point or where a lighter, auxiliary truck collects and delivers it is worthy of trial, as it possesses many efficient features. The delivery of the goods at their destinations may be handled very satisfactorily in a similar manner.

Must Keep Accounts.
The small-scale truck line usually collects the charges when the freight is accepted, while the more elaborate systems which haul regularly for different patrons submit weekly or monthly bills. It is essential that each truck operator, no matter how simple his system, should keep a record of his expenses. The bureau of markets in an investigation of over 60 rural motor routes, ascertained that many operators who kept no accounts thought they were making a profit, when, as a matter of fact, they were gradually exhausting their original investment for current expenses.

Must Practice Economy.

Rural hauling by motor is limited and restricted by the operation costs as compared with those of railroads, electric lines and boat routes. The truckman must practice every possible economy in order to minimize his expenses which will be reflected in his charges. Truck routes are only adapted to sections in which the roads are good, as poor roads are an insurmountable obstacle to motor freighting. Furthermore, truck operators must be financially responsible for the goods they carry. Consequently they should be protected by adequate insurance. It is only by such practices that a permanent and certain business can be developed.

GIVE ATTENTION TO AUTO LIGHTS

Owners Overlook Essential Part by Thinking Wiring Too Complicated to Master.

LEARN TO READ HYDROMETER

Prevent Short Circuits by Watching Insulation and Patching Worn Places With Tape—Carry Duplicate Set of Bulbs.

Most car owners believe the lighting system on a car is too complicated to be mastered. But it is not at all difficult to learn how to take care of it. The battery, the lights, the ammeter, the fuses and the wires can readily be understood and should be inspected occasionally. Every motorist should know how to read a hydrometer and test the battery. The cell-hydro meter is better than the one made of glass, because it is not so easily broken.

A reading of from 1.275 to 1.300 indicates that the battery is in good condition and is being properly charged by the generator. If the reading is down to 1.200 it indicates that the lights or the the starter are being used too much.

Keep the battery terminals tight and cover them with cup grease to prevent corrosion by the battery acid. Short circuits can be prevented by watching the wire insulation and covering worn places with tape.

Watch Ammeter Closely.

The ammeter should be watched closely, for it indicates whether the battery is charging when the engine is running. The very best type of ammeter is that which shows the rate at which the charging or discharging takes place.

When the car is running at normal speed—say 20 miles an hour—with all lights on, the ammeter should show charge. If it does not, the battery will soon be discharged. Always see that the ammeter doesn't register discharge when the lights and ignition are turned off. This would be caused by a short circuit between the ammeter and the switch.

Occasionally an ammeter needle becomes bent, giving an incorrect reading. This may be determined by shutting off the lights and disconnecting the wire from the ammeter to the switch. If any variation is noted it must be allowed for when making a reading.

Arrangement of Lamps.

It is always a good plan to carry a duplicate set of lamp bulbs for the car. Note the voltage of the tail light and the instrument light. If these are marked 6V instead of 6V it means that they are wired in series—that is, the current must pass through one and then through the other before it grounds. This is done to notify you whether the tail light is burning. If one of these lights goes out the other also goes out. These lamps must not be put in sockets marked for 6V lamps, such as the side lights, as they would burn out in a few seconds. On the other hand, a 6V lamp would not be harmful but it would give very little light.

Always keep an extra supply of fuses on hand. Learn the location of the fuse for each set of lamps. This is easily determined by turning on all the lights and pulling out the fuses one at a time. When a fuse burns out, find the short circuit before replacing it, otherwise you will burn out fuses just as fast as you put them in.

ANNOYANCES OF DOOR STRAP

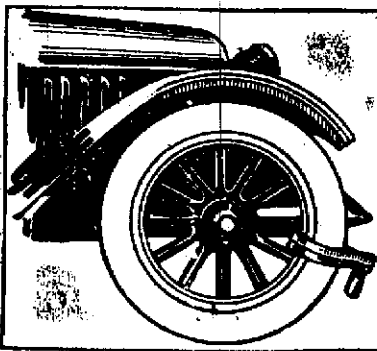

Trouble May Be Prevented by Fastening Small Coil Spring to the Center of Strap.

The straps that are installed on the doors of cars to keep the former from opening too far often cause annoyance by getting in the way of the door when it is being closed. By fastening a small coil spring to the center of the strap, the other end of the spring being attached where the strap is fastened to the body, this trouble will be obviated.

CARING FOR VACUUM TANKS

Fuel Feed System Should Be Cleaned Every Three Months—Take Inner Chamber Out.

The tank of the vacuum fuel feed system should be cleaned out at least once in three months. The operation is not hard to carry out. The top of the tank should be removed and the inner vacuum chamber be taken out. This enables the operator to reach the lower chamber, from which all dirt should be removed.

Waterproof Top.

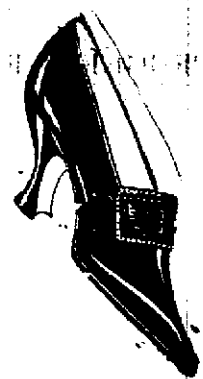

Difficulty is sometimes encountered with leakage through the mohair top. If the top is thoroughly rubbed with boiled linseed oil it will be made practically waterproof.

Applying More Pull Here

WHERE the rear wheels of your truck engage the road, right there Atlantic Gasoline applies terrific force. One of two things must give way, either the load or the road. For wherever wheels can get traction, Atlantic Gasoline supplies abundant power to move massive loads with ease and agility.

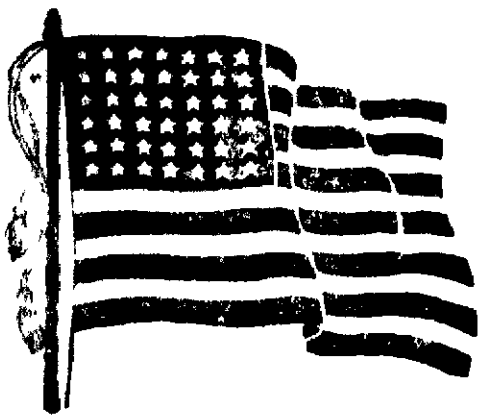

First of all, Atlantic Gasoline is no ordinary motor-fuel. Not by any manner of means. It is most extraordinary. It is in a class by itself and at the head of the class.

Just as you cannot get more water out of a bucket than you put into it, so you cannot get more power out of a motor-fuel than is put into it.

A highly skilled organization of refiners charge Atlantic Gasoline with potential power to the absolute limit. It is for your drivers to extract that power when they shift the throttle, or step on the accelerator.

COAL SHORTAGE ON WAY, GOVT. SAYS BUY NOW

May Be Result of 1917-18 Conditions Not Winter Says Geologic Survey.

MINES IDLE WITHOUT ORDERS.

Those Who Delay Ordering Longer May Not Get Their Fuel Later On.

The geologic survey has issued a warning that a coal shortage is on the way. It says that the conditions of the 1917-18 season are such that the mines will not be able to produce enough coal to meet the demand of the winter of 1919-20. The survey says that the mines are now idle because they have no orders for coal. It says that the government should buy coal now to avoid a shortage later on.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

NO CELEBRATION AT CURWENSVILLE ON JULY FOURTH

From all present indications Curwensville will have no demonstration on July 4th. An effort was made by several who were interested, in holding an old fashioned picnic but after making a canvas of merchants and others received so little encouragement that they soon gave up the idea and dropped the matter then, and there. Clearfield will receive the majority of the young folks who will want to spend the day out of town who ston will go to other towns in search of amusements.

Borough road master Dale had the street sweeper at work yesterday. The machine while used very little since its purchase demonstrated that it would do the work thoroughly in properly handled and under the guiding hand of David Cochran the main thoroughfare were soon free from dust and dirt.

Curwensville real estate transfers: Boyd W. Smith, to Crescent Refractories company, plot of ground in borough, consideration $325. Alton Hummel to Clem L. Rougeux, house and lot on Bloomington avenue, consideration $1700. Mrs. Alfred Bilger, house and lot on Main street to John Moroski, consideration $3800. Several other transfers will be made next week.

The Progress man was in error when he stated that the saw mill which burned on the O. L. Norris farm last Monday was operated by O. C. Norris. The mill was owned and operated by the Crescent Refractories company and were sawing out some lumber for Norris and other parties as well as for the company.

Do not forget the carnival to be held here all of next week, under the auspices of the Keystone cornet band. The band needs some new instrument.

and music and have taken this method of raising the sum needed. Curwensville should support the band boys in their efforts to raise money by giving the people something for their money, instead of soliciting the same by subscription.

Friends of Harold Thompson received word that he had met with an accident at Bellefonte the other day by falling from a pole. He was cut and bruised considerably but luckily no bones were broken.

A number of ladies desire us to mention in the Curwensville letter that ice cream, cake and coffee will be sold over in the South Side public building every Saturday evening. The proceeds are for a good cause and deserve the patronage of citizens generally.

The string of mines along the river are now swinging full each mine having secured enough men to make it possible to operate to full capacity.

This unusually hot weather makes it almost impossible for the men to work at the brick yard and were it not for the shower baths and other conveniences provided by the company men would hesitate about going out to work during the day turns.

The private sale of the personal property of the late Martha Broom was held yesterday and will continue until all the furniture is disposed of.

The Summit Sole Leather tannery was closed down on Wednesday in order to allow the employees an opportunity to attend the big gathering of soldiers and sailors at DuBois.

The funeral of Nolan Bloom held yesterday afternoon was largely attended and the floral display was appropriate and a fit one for the sad occasion to which they were applied. About 40 members of the Live Wire Bible class attended.

WONDER OF WOMAN IS DEEPLY STIRRED

Mrs. Minnie Anderson 32 N. Edgewood St. Phila., said: "I had what felt like a lump in the throat. My circulation was poor and my heart action was not strong. Mrs. Reichert a neighbor, recommended Tanlac. I bought some and now I am much better in every way. Can anyone wonder I praise Tanlac every chance I get."

The genuine J. I. Gore Co. Tanlac is sold here by Stewart Drug Co., Woodward & McPherson.

"Y" TEAM LOSES 7TH STRAIGHT

The "Y" team lost another game
last night to 3rd Ward, 11 to 4. As usual the "Y" team started right at the beginning and scored the first runs. They held this lead until the fifth inning when hits mixed with errors gave the 3rd Ward a good margin. Rosberry was knocked out
while beating out a hit to first base,
he and Patterson colliding.

The score:
